“United we stand, divided we fall” is a phrase used in many different kinds of mottos, most often to inspire unity and collaboration. Its core concept lies in the collectivist notion that if individual members of a certain group with binding ideals-such as a union, coalition, confederation or alliance-work on their own instead of as a team ...Nord, 767 P.2d 750, 751 (Colo.App.1988); Nikander v. District Court, 711 P.2d 1260, 1262 (Colo. 1986). A trial court's discretionary refusal to grant an indigent defendant's request for free services will be upheld absent a showing that the services sought were necessary and would have been helpful to the defendant. Nord, 767 P.2d at 752. A reviewing court called upon to address a matter ...711 P.2d 1260 (1986) Richard P. NIKANDER, Petitioner, v. The DISTRICT COURT In and For the FIRST JUDICIAL DISTRICT of the State of Colorado, and Winston W. Wolvington, One of the Judges Therein, Respondents. Waters cites Nikander v. District Court, 711 P.2d 1260 (Colo. 1986), for the proposition that a trial court's determination of indigency and, thus, eligibility for court-appointed counsel requires a consideration of a petitioner's complete financial situation rather than merely a strict application of the income eligibility guidelines. She further argues that the Supreme Court Chief Justice ..., Nikander V. District Court.
